COLLECTION PORTO

A very interesting experience in Portugal is a live concert of a musical style called fado.

In larger cities, there are countless pleasant bars, where small groups of guitarists (using a twelve-string instrument) and charismatic singers play with a glass of wine in the evenings. The speech is extremely emotional, the performer plays with dynamics and tempo. The content of melancholic lyrics is the longing for a loved one, social inequality, often, for example, the difficult fate of a sailor or the belief in a better future.
